The image displays two screenshots of the AFMC Bar Panel application interface, demonstrating the process of cancelling items from an order.

Top Screenshot: The interface shows an order for "Order Number 505" by "Name rajesh Non member" with a "Quantity 2 unit(s)". The status is "4 scan(s) remaining". The "Order Items" table lists two items: "Coke 250 ML" and "Gimlet", both with "Ordered (Paid + Free)" of 1, "Scanned" of 0, and "Remaining" of 1. The "Cancel" column for each item has a red 'X' icon, which is highlighted by a red box. The "Scan Barcode" section shows a barcode input field and a "Quantity" field. The "Current Scanned Item" section shows fields for "Item Code", "Item Name", and "Price".

Bottom Screenshot: The interface shows the same order, but a red box highlights a notification message: "localhost:3000 says Item cancelled successfully." with an "OK" button. The "Order Items" table now shows only one item, "Gimlet", with "Ordered (Paid + Free)" of 1, "Scanned" of 0, and "Remaining" of 1. The "Cancel" column for "Gimlet" still has a red 'X' icon. The "Scan Barcode" and "Current Scanned Item" sections remain the same.

We can see here once the order is cancelled the item is removed from the order by kitchen admin.
